

Conflict Minerals Statement

In the production process of our compound and product we do not use or intentionally add conflict minerals such as:

- Columbite-tantalite
- Cassiterite
- Wolframite
- Gold and their derivatives (Tin, Tungsten, Tantalum) from the Democratic Republic of Congo.

However, not all raw materials suppliers used in the manufacture of our compounds and products have guaranteed the absence of conflict minerals from their materials. Since the testing of these substances is not part of our standard routine quality control and production testing procedures, we cannot formally guarantee the absence of these substances in our product, so on rare occasions these may present as impurities.

Thomas Petersen
Managing Director